

We are quickly approaching the Northwest Scientific Association's 90th Annual Meeting to be held at Lewis-Clark State College in Lewiston, Idaho next week, March 26-29, and are very excited about the great turnout of speakers, poster presentations, and registrants! The Annual Meeting Program and Abstracts document is now posted on the website, so you can access all the information on the meeting and program there.

There is some logistical information we would like to share with you to help in your planning for attending the meeting.

In consideration of those that are chemically sensitive, please help us make this a fragrance-free meeting, and refrain from using scented products.

The Social will be held Tuesday evening, March 26 in the Warrior Ballroom at the Red Lion Hotel at 621 21st Street Lewiston, ID 83501. Social begins at 6:00 pm with appetizers and a no-host beer and wine bar. You can sign in there and pick up your nametag and printed program to beat the rush Wednesday morning. It will be a great opportunity to connect with old friends and meet new folks as well.

The Plenary session will be held Wednesday morning in Silverthorne Theatre in the Administration Building; the closest parking lots are off of 6th Street and 9th Avenue near the baseball field. Doors will open for registration at 7:30 am, and the plenary begins at 8:00.

The remainder of the technical sessions will be held in Sacajaweja (SAC) Hall, beginning after lunch at 1:20 pm Wednesday. You are on your own for lunch on Wednesday—there are suggested eating places and map in the program document. The closest parking lots to SAC Hall are the Library parking lot and the 4th Street parking lot.

All three workshops have reached their capacity and are closed. We regret that the Geology of Hells Canyon Jet Boat tour was cancelled due to low enrollment, but you may be interested in attending one of the other three field trips.

Parking is free on campus. We look forward to seeing you all next week!
